THE PROCTORIAN
1971
PROCTOR HIGH SCHOOL
PROCTOR, VERMONT

Save the dreams and memories,
They are like the wind ...
Scattering through the air
MARK GALLUS

Very few words are needed to express how we feel toward Almo who has been a friend to us all. This short poem says it all.

"The making of friends, who are real friends, is the best token we have of a man's success in life."

EDWARD EVERETT HALE

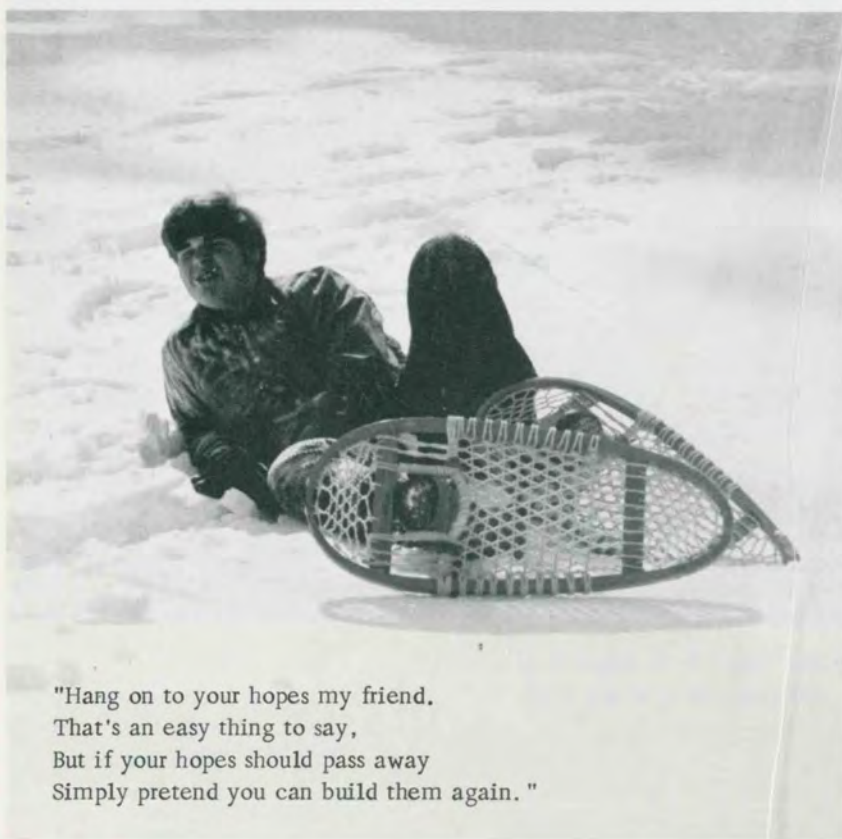

Almo's life as measured by these words has indeed been a success.

The 1971 Proctorian is proudly dedicated to Almo.

"And I know I don't have much to give but soon I'll open any door."

"Hang on to your hopes my friend,
That's an easy thing to say,
But if your hopes should pass away
Simply pretend you can build them again."

"And it really doesn't matter if
I'm wrong; I'm right.
Where I belong I'm right, where
I belong..."

Mr. Candon

They that love beyond the world cannot be separated by it. Death cannot kill what never dies.

.... Nor can spirits ever be divided that love and live in the same divine principle, the root and record, of their friendship.

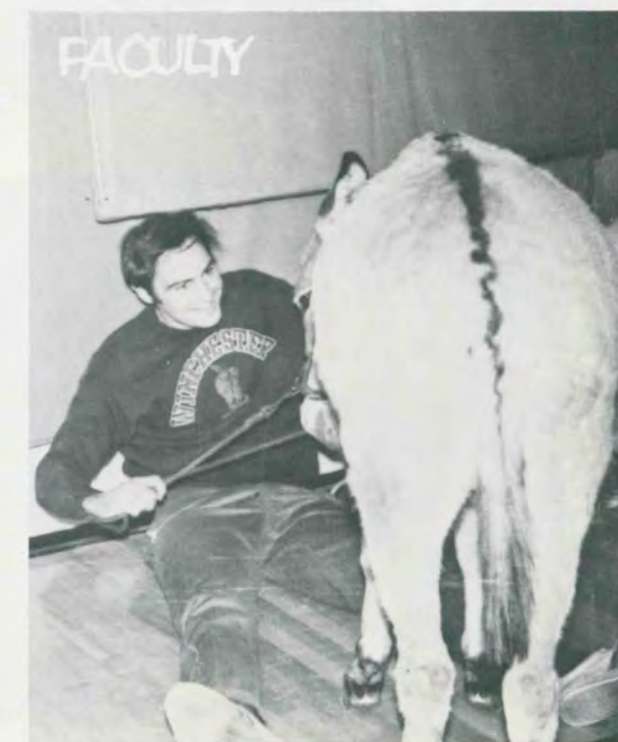

... Death is but crossing the world as friends do the seas; they live in one another still ... That is the comfort of friends, that though they may be said to die, yet their friendship and society are, in the best sense, ever present because immortal.

Begin The End

Wind, yes that's it, or were the sky and a rain drop playing?

The time was that which a growing seed could feel life.

It was now a life which spoke to the wind and rain and sky.

It was the only existence that made time and others complete.

Staring to the heavens, he saw himself, not like he was there,

But as a piece of dust in a vast spectrum where existed millions like him.

Wind, yes that's it, or were the sky and a rain drop playing?

How queer that they now play alone ...
